DANIELSON

Alexander Duhamel, exhibiting Bull Moose at Blackton—One vacancy on Town School Board—Independent Political Party Certain—License Majority Shrinks—Twenty-Nine Sudden Deaths During Quarter.

Frank J. G. Bailey of Hartford visited at his home here Tuesday. Henry A. Segar of Pottstown, Pa., visited with friends in Danielson on Tuesday.

John Breyer has a badly injured foot, which he cut while using an axe. Abner Weisberg of Hartford visited here Tuesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Weisberg.

Bull Moose at Fair. Alexander Duhamel is exhibiting his bull moose at the Brockton fair. The moose was transported to Brockton in a motor truck.

Mrs. J. J. Dunn is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Sarah Nolan, in Bridgeport.

Leaves for New Jersey. H. J. Lemons, a resident here for the past seven years, left Tuesday afternoon for Edgewater, N. J., where he is to be purchasing agent for the Edgewater Municipal company.

Member of School Board. Miss Emma F. Pilling received Tuesday many congratulations upon her election as a member of the town school committee.

Planning Loan Canvass. Chairman C. A. Tillinghast of the Killingly Liberty Loan committee was in communication Tuesday with Chas. Hamberger, who is to manage the campaign in this section of the state. The loan canvass for subscriptions to the loan will not commence here for a few days.

Making the Best of It. Much after the style of the Kaiser's communications to the crown prince, democratic junkies in Killingly were congratulating each other Tuesday over the glorious victory they won at the polls Monday. Some democratic candidates won Monday, but the party took its usual sound licking, as was a foregone conclusion under present rules of the game, but why question the interests of the party when individuals must be served? Hence the parallel with Berlin.

Will Be Vagabond in School Board. Secretary Sidney P. Mayland of the town school committee said Tuesday afternoon that the town school committee, with its new member, will meet Thursday evening for reorganization. While it has never been announced, the resignation of Hector McConnell, republican, as chairman of the committee, was filed some time ago, but has not been accepted. In the hope that Mr. McConnell would reconsider, but this he has declined to do. This creates a vacancy in the board which must be filled by appointment.

INDEPENDENT POLITICAL PARTY. To Be Organized in Killingly—Means Fusion of Voters From Two Present Parties.

Definite plans were formulated on Tuesday for the organization of an independent political party in Killingly. A surprising amount of pledges of support of such a movement have been gratuitously offered within the past fortnight, assuring the independent party of splendid political strength in next fall's campaign. This party will be of a fusion nature and will tend to clear up certain political conditions in Killingly that do not meet with the approval of many citizens. Workers and leaders in the new party have been selected. These leaders will represent different villages of the town and they will work in union to bring about what they consider improved conditions.

LICENSE MAJORITY SHRINKS. Only 16, as Compared With 248 in 1915 —There's a Reason!

The license forces of Killingly got the scare of years in Monday's election, when their majority shrank from 248, two years ago, to a paltry 15. The no-license men now feel certain they would have won had they exerted themselves, and this is not disagreed with by men on the license side.

Several reasons have been advanced for the shrinking away of Killingly's heavy majority for license. Among those reasons are the following: Disension among the ranks of the license forces, this openly admitted to be true; (2) the advance in the price of distilled liquors, due to war taxes; (3) the shifting of blocks of license votes to the no-license side that always occurs in this town after a prolonged period of license; (4) failure to make many new voters who would have voted for license; (5) great difficulty in getting voters to come to the polls this year, this being in line with general political apathy; (6) large number of arrests in Killingly the past year; (7) strong elements holding up the license strength were; (8) Fear of a lax no-license policy; (9) prospective loss of general trade from villages of Killingly to a nearby license town in case of no-license here; (10) desire to hold up the town's revenue and thereby ward off a prospective increase in taxation.

The ditcher outfit which has been working on the Norwich branch out of this city is now operating along for the time near White's crossing. Embankments are being cut down and the roadbed re-laid, the whole work being a decided improvement.

One man who was called to appear and proceed Thursday with this district continuing to Camp Devens at Ayer, states that he will not be among those present, because his health is poor.

The October meeting of the common council was held Tuesday evening with Mayor J. J. McGarry presiding.

Executive Committee to Meet. Friday forenoon of this week the executive committee of the Windham County Farmers' association met here at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the matter of providing transportation for the home economics demonstrator and for the assistant county agent.

The new rules and regulations relative to the holding of milk will come up for discussion and it is probable that a delegate will be selected to go to Hartford on October 8 to represent the association at the conference to be held in that city.

Collection Time Extended. It was stated here Tuesday afternoon that the period for completing Putnam's allotment of the camp library fund has been extended for one week in order that some of those engaged in the work may have more time in which to solicit for subscriptions.

Charles Hamberger to Direct Campaign. Up to Tuesday afternoon the start of the campaign for the second Liberty loan had not been announced in Putnam. An announcement relative thereto are expected at once, however, for Charles Hamberger, who was in charge of the work in this county in June, will again direct the effort that is to be made. Putnam raised over $300,000 in June, exceeding its allotment. The same degree of success is predicted for the second loan work here.

EDWARD A. SWAIN DIES AT HIS POMFRET HOME. State Representative and Distinguished Educator Had Been Ill Several Months.

Representative Edward A. Swain of the town of Pomfret died at his home there Monday. He had been ill of heart trouble since last July. Mr. Swain was born in Providence, the son of Rev. Leonard and Mrs. Swain, his father being one of the most celebrated clergymen in that section of New England.

For many years Mr. Swain had been a resident of Pomfret and he is accredited with having done a great deal of public good in the community. He was a graduate of Brown university and for a number of years engaged in tutoring and afterwards conducted a private school in Providence. After coming to Pomfret he taught Greek for several years at Pomfret school.

Throughout his life he was interested in educational matters and for a time was a member of the Pomfret town school committee, giving much time and effort to developing the school system of the town.

Mr. Swain, who was Miss Martha M. Burroughs, died about five years ago, and the loss was one that was very severe to Mr. Swain.

During the session of the Connecticut legislature of 1917 he served on a number of committees, but gave his chief attention to the affairs of the committee on education.

His home is one of the fine country places of Pomfret.

Mr. Swain leaves three sons. Attorney Leonard Swain, Providence; Robert, member of an engineers' corps, which is en route to France, he being a graduate of Williams college, and a junior student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Charles P. who is at home.

Mr. Swain was one of the most highly esteemed men of the town of Pomfret, where his death is regarded as a public loss.

Selected Men to Leave Without Formality.

There will be no special ceremony attendant tomorrow upon the going away of the 48 men who are to make up another 40 per cent. of this district's quota.

A majority of the men who are going participated here a week ago Thursday in the big demonstration, though not all were present.

The men have been ordered to report here at 1 o'clock, will then check in, receive their instructions and answer roll call. They will go away in the charge of Harold S. Corbin of this city as provisional captain.

Men from this city who are at Camp Devens have recommended that each selected man secure a suit case to take to camp. If a case that has a lock can be secured, the case may be used to advantage as a holder of a man's little possessions at camp and prove very convenient to have about.

The work was started during the second week of school by students staying at school during the noon hour. The hoisting of the net was begun Wednesday. Handy immediately marked out the court. A post is being made by the Trade School, and as soon as this is ready, play will begin.

Wilfred Sharpe has been appointed temporary manager. The second court is to be put in order soon at the expense of the town.
